Happy Trails Treasure Hunt

Did you know some of the benefits of community trails and greenways?

Recreation

One of the most direct benefits of community trails and greenways is the close to home, accessible recreation opportunities they provide.

Transportation

In addition to being corridors for recreation, trails and greenways can function as non-motorized transportation corridors for pedestrians and cyclists.

Healthy Living

Many people realize exercise is important for maintaining good health in all stages of life; trails and greenways provide a safe, inexpensive avenue for regular exercise for people living in rural, urban and suburban areas.

Economics and Property Appreciation

Trails are becoming common in residential neighborhoods. Development plans for homes, apartments, and townhouses often include footpaths to enhance recreational opportunities and property values.

Environment

Greenways protect important habitat and provide corridors for people and wildlife.

Safe and Livable Communities

Trails promote safe and livable communities. The recreation, health, transportation and environmental benefits collectively can contribute to an overall enhanced quality of life in communities.
